An Advisor

Clients immediately respond to Marie's energy, enthusiasm and true passion for the fast-paced and challenging public accounting world. Her positive attitude combined with her varied experience at regional and national public accounting firms allow Marie to bring a unique perspective and depth to clients' businesses.

Marie has 15 years of experience helping private companies and their owners work through a variety of technical issues, including accounting for complex debt and equity instruments, purchase price accounting and impairment of intangible assets. She also provides consulting services to assist clients with special projects, such as obtaining financing and assisting with sell-side due diligence.

One of Marie's key focus areas lies in working with not-for-profit organizations. Her significant background gives her the necessary credentials and knowledge to perform audits in accordance with Uniform Guidance. She has in-depth experience with religious institutions, social service organizations, nursing and long-term care facilities, educational institutions and private foundations.
