

Don Schade, CPA
Ascensa Business Partners

I graduated from ASU's WP Carey School of Business with a degree in finance in the mid 90's. After graduation I worked in various finance and accounting roles with America West Airlines which, through successive mergers, became American Airlines. During my time with the airline I completed the requirements to become a CPA and received certification. For the past six years I have been the Chief Financial Officer for a loan servicing company in Scottsdale. Recently I started a consulting firm, Ascensa Business Partners, to help small to mid-sized companies improve their profitability through financial discipline. My father was an Army volunteer and stationed in Korea during the late 1950's. I am married with three sons ages 8 through 13 and currently live in the Town of Gilbert.
