The Uniform CPA Examination

An overview of the CPA Exam and resources to help you prepare
The Uniform CPA Examination® ("Exam") protects the public interest by helping to ensure that only qualified individuals become licensed as U.S. Certified Public Accountants (CPAs). The CPA credential is the only licensing qualification in accounting and auditing in the United States.

This booklet provides individuals interested in becoming a CPA with information about the profession, testing requirements and details, and candidate resources.

So, you want to earn your CPA? The CPA is the only licensing qualification for the accounting and auditing profession in the United States. But first, you must the pass the Uniform CPA Examination®.

The Exam provides reasonable assurance to the 55 U.S. boards of accountancy (50 states plus the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, the U.S. Virgin Islands, Guam and the Commonwealth of Northern Mariana Islands*) that those who pass possess the minimum level of technical knowledge and skills necessary for initial licensure. The public interest is protected when only qualified individuals are licensed as CPAs.

* The Commonwealth of Northern Mariana Islands does not accept applicants for the Exam, but does accept scores from other jurisdictions for initial licensure.

 Certain states require a separate ethics assessment in addition to what is tested on the CPA Exam.
What can you expect from the Exam?

The Exam is a rigorous assessment of the accounting knowledge and skills that are directly connected to the work of a newly licensed CPA. Before you begin your CPA journey, it’s important for you to learn the basics about the Exam.

Time frame

Each section is taken separately. You will have four hours to take each section, for a total testing time of 16 hours. You must pass all four sections within 18 months after passing your initial Exam section. The start of the 18-month time frame varies by jurisdiction. Visit nasba.org/cpaexam for clarification.

Test windows

The Exam is available to take during the test windows noted below.

- Quarter 1: Jan. 1–March 10
- Quarter 2: April 1–June 10
- Quarter 3: July 1–Sept. 10
- Quarter 4: Oct. 1–Dec. 10

Breaks

You can choose to pause or not pause the Exam timer for 15 minutes during each section. This standardized break will occur after the third testlet only. You may also take breaks after every other testlet, but the timer will continue to run. See the Exam structure graphic for details.

Four sections*

- Auditing and Attestation (AUD)
- Business Environment and Concepts (BEC)
- Financial Accounting and Reporting (FAR)
- Regulation (REG)

*Each section is divided into small segments called testlets. There are five testlets per section.

Scoring

You must score a 75 or higher on each Exam section.

Authoritative literature

You will have access to authoritative literature in each Exam section and can search information to be used in completing simulations.

Item types

You are tested using three types of questions (items):

- Multiple-Choice Questions (MCQ)
  MCQs appear in Testlets No. 1 and No. 2 in each Exam section.

- Task-Based Simulations (TBS)
  Simulations are case studies that allow you to demonstrate your knowledge and skills by working through a problem. TBSs typically require you to use spreadsheets and/or search the Exam’s authoritative literature. TBSs appear during Testlets No. 3, No. 4 and No. 5.

- Written Communication Tasks (WCT)
  Written communication tasks are found only in Testlet No. 5 of the BEC section. You will need to read a scenario and write a clear, coherent response. The directions will explain the format of your response (e.g., memo, letter, etc.)

CPA Exam Blueprints
The Blueprints, which are published one or two times per year, outline all content that may be tested in each Exam section. The Blueprints give you:

- Content organized by area, group and topic, along with score weighting
- Sample task statements that represent what you may be asked to do when testing
- Skill levels at which tasks are tested
- Reference materials that support the sample task statements
- Number of item types you must complete (multiple-choice questions, task-based simulations and written communication tasks)
- Score weighting of each item type

Access the Blueprints at aicpa.org/examblueprints.

Tutorial and Sample Tests
Before your actual test day, you should make sure to practice with the Exam's format and functionality.

Tutorial
The tutorial topics explain the Exam's functionality of question types, tools, resources and navigation. Tutorial topics are found under the "Help" button within each sample test. The tutorial is not available at test centers and does not contain actual Exam content.

Sample Tests
There is a sample test for each section of the Exam. The sample tests let you practice with the Exam's question types, tools and resources as they will function in a Prometric test center.

You can answer test questions that represent all the question types found on the Exam: Multiple-Choice Questions (MCQ), Task-Based Simulations (TBS) and Written Communication Tasks (WCT). The sample questions provide an answer key but are not intended to reflect your readiness to take the Exam.

Access the tutorial and sample tests at aicpa.org/cpaexam.
The best starting point for any candidate preparation is the Blueprints, developed by experienced CPAs and psychometricians.
Top candidate FAQs

Q: What’s the right order to take each section of the Exam?
A: There’s no right order. It varies by individual preference. It’s up to you to determine the right order for yourself.

Q: How long should I study to ensure I pass the Exam?
A: Like the answer above, this really varies by individual. As this is a rigorous test, the more time you can set aside to study and prepare, the greater your chances of success.

Q: Do all candidates take the same exam?
A: You will take different, but equivalent exams. The questions presented to you are drawn from a pool of test questions according to defined specifications. Although you take different exams, the specifications ensure that the results are comparable.
Q: How do I find out when new content is eligible for testing on the Exam?
A: This is referred to as the AICPA's Policy on New Pronouncements, which establishes the time frame for when new content becomes eligible for testing on the Exam. When you study for the Exam, you are advised to check the policy, which may be found at aicpa.org/cpaexam under the Exam Content section.

Q: What happens after I pass the Exam?
A: Passing all four sections of the Exam means that you have achieved one of the major milestones on the way to becoming licensed. Once you pass, all that stands between you and your career as a CPA is a state-issued license. In most jurisdictions, the license mainly serves as an official checklist for accomplishments and qualifications you’ve already satisfied — starting with passing the Exam.

Q: What are the semester-hour requirements?
A: All jurisdictions require aspiring CPAs to have 120 or 150 credit hours to sit for the Exam, depending on the jurisdiction, and 150 credit hours for licensure. Candidates generally will need at least 24 semester hours in accounting. Fourteen states allow fewer than 24 semester hours in business. This doesn’t necessarily mean that you need a master’s degree, although that certainly helps. You can also meet the requirement at the undergraduate level or earn your bachelor’s degree and take courses at the graduate level.

Q: What are the experience requirements?
A: Most jurisdictions require a year of experience working under a licensed CPA before they allow you to be licensed as a CPA, though some require two or more years of experience.

Q: What are the jurisdiction requirements?
A: Each jurisdiction is different. Be sure to check their individual requirements at nasba.org/cpaexam.
How does scoring work?

What’s a passing score?
Section scores are reported on a scale that ranges from 0 to 99. A total reported score of 75 or higher is required to pass each section. This is not a percent correct score and cannot be interpreted as a percentage. For more information on how the Exam is scored, visit aicpa.org/examscoring.

When will I receive my score?
The first score release typically is in the first week of the second month of the testing window, and then usually every two weeks following the initial release. See the target score release dates at aicpa.org/examscorerelease.

The Elijah Watt Sells Award
The AICPA has bestowed the Elijah Watt Sells Award on candidates for outstanding performance on the Exam since 1923.
Candidates are eligible for the award in the calendar year following the year in which they completed testing. If a candidate meets all criteria for eligibility, they will be contacted by the AICPA and informed of their recipient status. The award is bestowed annually upon candidates who:
- Have obtained a cumulative average score above 95.50 across all four sections of the CPA Exam
- Passed all four sections of the Exam on their first attempt

Sells was one of the country’s first CPAs. He was active in the establishment of the AICPA, and played a key role helping to advance professional education in the profession.
Who oversees the Exam?

Who administers the Exam?
The AICPA, the National Association of State Boards of Accountancy (NASBA) and Prometric have a contractual partnership to deliver the Exam.
For more information on the requirements to sit for the CPA Exam, visit nasba.org/cpaexam.

Who oversees governance of the Exam?
The AICPA Board of Examiners (BOE) provides oversight for the Exam. The BOE sets development and scoring policies that follow legal and psychometric standards as they relate to licensing Exams. The BOE also ensures that the Exam remains aligned with the knowledge and skills of newly licensed CPAs.

In addition to being the world's largest member association representing the accounting profession, the AICPA also is responsible for developing and scoring the Uniform CPA Exam and for bringing you ThisWayToCPA.com, a website designed specifically for college students and Exam candidates.

After you have made your decision to sit for the Exam, NASBA is the official location to find out the specific requirements in the 55 U.S. accounting jurisdictions. It’s also the place to turn to receive your official score report.
Your board of accountancy will issue your CPA license.

Prometric is responsible for the delivery of the Exam to approved test centers, scheduling test appointments, test administration and returning results to the AICPA for scoring.
Exam application process

Determine eligibility.
- Check with your selected jurisdiction on requirements to sit for the Exam (state requirements vary between 120 or 150 hours of education).
- Meet eligibility requirements for selected jurisdiction.

Submit application.
- Complete application and submit required documentation.
- Application is evaluated to verify eligibility to sit for the Exam.
- Candidates receive Notice to Schedule (NTS).

Schedule your exam.
- Schedule your exam with Prometric after receiving NTS.
- Any U.S. Prometric test center can be used regardless of jurisdiction.
- International locations require an additional fee.
- NTS is valid for six months in most jurisdictions (varies by state).

For more information on your individual state board's requirements, visit nasba.org/cpaexam.
International candidates

Can I earn my CPA license if I’m not a U.S. citizen?
If you are not a U.S. citizen, you may qualify as a licensed U.S. Certified Public Accountant (CPA) if you meet board of accountancy eligibility requirements in one of the 55 U.S. jurisdictions. You must be able to take the Exam in English. It is not offered in any other language. For all international eligibility questions, visit nasba.org/international.

Applying to take the Exam
The application process is basically the same for international candidates as it is for U.S. candidates. To apply, you must:
• Select a U.S. jurisdiction.
• Contact the board of accountancy (or its agent) in that jurisdiction to obtain application materials.
• Submit completed applications and required fees as instructed.
• Once you are qualified, schedule your exam.

International testing locations
We are currently testing in multiple international locations. For specific testing sites, visit aicpa.org/cpalexam.

International Qualification Examination (IQEX)
The IQEX is an exam for accounting professionals from other countries who wish to qualify as U.S. CPAs and whose professional bodies have entered into mutual recognition agreements with the U.S. accounting profession.
Top tips for Exam day

Cellphones
Once you enter the testing center, you may NOT access your cellphone. This includes using your cellphone during a scheduled break.

Finding a seat
You should schedule your appointment at least 45 days before you plan to take the Exam to ensure you get your preferred date and time.

Introductory screens
Currently, there are three introduction screens (Welcome, Confidentiality and Section Information). You have five minutes to complete the first screen and five minutes to complete the second and third screen. If you time out on the first screen, you may restart. If you time out on the second or third screens, you may not restart.

Late arrival
If you arrive at the testing center after your scheduled appointment time, Prometric is not obligated to allow you to test. Know where you are going well in advance.

Navigation
To navigate from question to question, use the controls at the bottom of the screen. Click on the "Next" button (not the "Exit" button) to advance to the next question, or the "Previous" button to go to the previous question. To go directly to any question, click on its number.

Notice to Schedule (NTS)
Remember to take your NTS, which has the launch code printed on it, to the test center. This is not to be confused with the "Confirmation" received from Prometric after scheduling an exam. Check the date on your NTS to make sure it is the current one and not one from a previous test section.

Reporting issues
You should immediately report any technical difficulties during testing to the staff at the test center. Do not wait until the Exam has ended.

Rescheduling
If you reschedule an appointment with Prometric, you must go to the "Reschedule Appointment: Appointment Complete" screen. This follows the "Appointment Verification" screen. Also, make sure you have received a confirmation email from Prometric verifying the new appointment time and place.

Notifying NASBA
If you have any difficulties related to your test experience, a formal complaint should be sent to NASBA at candidatecare@nasba.org within five (5) days of taking the Exam. Do not wait until the score has been released.
