Comments Regarding the AICPA Auditing Standards Board's March 20, 2007 Discussion Paper, "Improving the Clarity of ASB Standards"

The NYSSCPA is pleased to provide the AICPA with the following comments:

1. We agree that the use of objectives, as proposed, will enhance the clarity of standards and highlight how professional judgment should be exercised in applying them. We believe that the use of objectives, by providing the overall context for the requirements, will assist practitioners in focusing on the overall purpose of a SAS. It will also facilitate research with respect to practice problems by establishing an easily identifiable point of reference and lending itself to electronic research. Therefore, we believe it will contribute to improving the clarity of ASB standards.
2. Either version in Appendix 1 or Appendix 2 will help practitioners better understand and implement an auditing standard. Of the two, we believe the version in Appendix 1 will work best because placing the requirements and the explanatory material contiguously will contribute to a continuity of thought. The version in Appendix 2, which separates the requirements and the explanatory material, is more akin to a laundry list. We think it desirable that standards endeavor to avoid a checklist approach in order to encourage professional judgment. Further, the version in Appendix 2 may raise questions as to which explanatory guidance relates to which requirement. We recommend that the ASB give consideration to the subsequent effects, if any, each of the two versions would have on the Codification of Statements on Auditing Standards.
3. The inclusion of special considerations in the audits of public sector entities and small entities in the explanatory material of an SAS would be helpful because it will result in more comprehensive coverage of the subject matter.
4. The inclusion of a glossary of terms in the Codification of Statements on Auditing Standards will be helpful because it will provide a comprehensive explanation of terms that practitioners can easily refer to. We suggest that the glossary cross reference each of the terms to the AU Sections where they appear.
