Ask your account manager about custom research surveys and additional lead gen opportunities.

Our audience wants to hear from you.

Content marketing provides the opportunity to showcase your brand and build awareness with readers. You supply the content, and our editorial team will review it to ensure it meets our standards.

Branding and custom content for our advertisers includes:

- Ask the Expert features a Q&A showcasing your thought leader. You create the content of the column. Our editors will provide suggestions to you about a featured topic, but you direct the tone. Available in both print and digital formats.
- Sponsored content and advertorials in print, on the web and in our newsletters.
- Co-branded research studies.

Align your brand with the AICPA through podcast sponsorships.

- Build brand awareness directly with your target audience.
- Listen to in-depth discussions on the latest issues with thought leaders from around the profession.

Rate policy

- Advertising copy, including illustrations, is subject to approval of the publisher.
- A short-rate invoice will be issued when it is apparent that the full contract, upon which billing has been based, cannot be completed.
- The publisher is not responsible for errors in keyed or box-numbered ads.
- The publisher is not responsible for failure to publish or to circulate all or part of any issue or issues because of strikes, work stoppages, accidents, fires, acts of God or any other circumstances outside the publisher’s control.
- The publisher reserves the right to reject or cancel any ad at any time before publication.
- Pre-payment required for first-time advertisers.
- Rate earned is determined by the total number of insertions or different advertisements, published in any one or more issues during a 12-month period.
- Conditions appearing on contracts, orders or copy instructions that conflict with the publisher’s policies will not be binding on the publisher.

Digital advertising policies

The below policies apply to all digital media the AICPA offers to advertisers for sponsorship — including our websites, e-newsletters, e-briefs, and any new digital media that may be created for the advertiser.

- All material must meet the material guidelines specified on the insertion order for each digital property and must be received 10 business days before the agreed publish date for the advertising material. If material is not received on time, the AICPA reserves the right to decline the advertisement and will not be liable for any financial losses or make-goods resulting from late submission of the ad material.
- Advertiser proofs will not be supplied, as all materials submitted must be final.
- The AICPA reserves the right to reject or cancel any ad at any time before publication for any reason.
- Additionally, the AICPA reserves the right to label an advertisement with the word “advertisement” or “sponsored” when, in its opinion, this is necessary to make clear the distinction between editorial material and advertising.
- Client/agency may not cancel their advertising commitment without providing their account manager at the AICPA with 30 days prior notice.
- Pre-payment is required for first-time advertisers.
- The AICPA will provide monthly performance reports for advertising campaigns.
- Digital advertising prices are based on flat rates. Prices are not based on impressions or clicks.

Print advertising policies and specifications

Color reproduction
For accurate color reproduction, a customer-supplied proof meeting SWOP standards (swop.org) is recommended for all advertisements. The AICPA will not be responsible for color reproduction without proofs that meet SWOP standards and are printed on a substrate that simulates publication-grade paper stock.

Submitting advertorials
Advertorials may not mimic the Journal of Accountancy, FM magazine or The Tax Adviser editorial pages. They must use a two- or four-column layout (three-column layout is not acceptable) and fonts different from both publications.
- Advertorials must feature a color border around the perimeter of each page.
- Advertorials must carry a header identifying the pages as advertising.
- Color reproduction
  For accurate color reproduction, a customer-supplied proof meeting SWOP standards (swop.org) is recommended for all advertisements. The AICPA will not be responsible for color reproduction without proofs that meet SWOP standards and are printed on a substrate that simulates publication-grade paper stock.

Issuance and closing dates
- Display advertising orders and creative materials are due the first of the month prior to the issue date. Note: In cases when the first of the month falls on a weekend or holiday, orders and creative materials are due the nearest preceding business day.
- Space cancellation after the closing date will result in a 33% cancellation charge.

Pre-printed inserts
Due dates vary.
Format requirements: Materials should be provided via email. If the file is too large to email, please contact the production manager.
