

Lindsay Stevenson, CPA, CGMA
1st Financial Bank USA

Lindsay is a CPA in Arizona and South Dakota and is active in both state societies. She sits on the ASCPA's Governmental Committee, A&A Committee and consults with the Emerging Leaders Committee. In addition to sitting on the SDCPA's Non- Practice Advisory Council, Lindsay received the SDCPA's Outstanding Young Professional Award for 2015-2016 for dedication in volunteering within the profession. Her love for volunteering extends to the AICPA as well where she is the Vice Chair of the Young Members Leadership

Committee, sits on the Depository Institution Expert Panel and participated in the Firm in Motion Task Force. Lindsay is a 2015 graduate of the AICPA's Leadership Academy and has spoken at the AICPA Practitioners Tech Plus Conference and the AICPA EDGE Experience, which she also helps to plan as a member of the EDGE Experience Planning Task Force. Being active in the community is also important to Lindsay, serving as the Chair of the Sioux City SCORE chapter and recently joining the Board of the Mary J. Treglia Community House. After an exciting 13-year career in public accounting where Lindsay specialized in both audit and tax engagements, she transitioned to corporate finance joining 1st Financial Bank USA in July of 2015. Lindsay has a passion for innovation and promoting women within the profession. As a mother of 3 boys (ages 15, 13, and 4), she believes that motherhood has provided her with a unique competitive advantage that can be leveraged in her CPA career. Her husband, Justin, supports, encourages, and champions Lindsay in all that she takes on and makes life outside the profession fun.
