Take your career to the next level by adding four simple letters: CITP.

Why add the Certified Information Technology Professional (CITP) credential to your CPA?

- 62% of CPAs believe that AICPA advisory service credentials have increased their credibility.*

Why get the CITP credential?

It tells your clients you:

- Are competent and qualified in the subject matter and are committed to continued professional education and technology resources.

The pathway to the credential

Step 1: Learn

The AICPA offers both self-study and classroom-based learning opportunities.

- Step 1: Learn.
  - Self-study CITP exam review course
  - Online CITP exam review course

Step 2: Pass the exam

Exam classes:

- Introduction to SOC for Service Organizations
- SOC for Cybersecurity Risk Management
- System and Organization Reporting
- Introduction to Service Organization Controls for System and Organization Controls
- Systems Security Audit

- CPE requirements
  - A CITP candidate must meet the following business experience requirement within the five-year period preceding the date of the CITP credential application:
  - A minimum of 1,000 hours of business experience in the subject matter, including, but not limited to the following:
    - Cybersecurity, threat management, or forensic accounting
    - IT governance, risk management, or controls
    - Information system assurance or consulting
    - Systems security audit

Step 3: Gain experience

A CITP candidate must meet the following business experience requirement within the five-year period preceding the date of the CITP credential application:

- A minimum of 1,000 hours of business experience in the subject matter, including, but not limited to the following:
  - Cybersecurity, threat management, or forensic accounting
  - IT governance, risk management, or controls
  - Information system assurance or consulting
  - Systems security audit

Step 4: Get credentialed.

Initial application requirements:

- A CITP candidate must meet the following business experience and exam requirements:
  - A CITP candidate must meet the following business experience and exam requirements:
    - A minimum of 1,000 hours of business experience in the subject matter, including, but not limited to the following:
      - Cybersecurity, threat management, or forensic accounting
      - IT governance, risk management, or controls
      - Information system assurance or consulting
      - Systems security audit

Learn more! Visit aicpa.org/CITP to find out more about the CITP credential.