Owning Your Leadership

Building extraordinary relationships beginning with self.

Digital CPA's are tasked with being the leaders in driving change, new initiatives and teams. This is why leadership skills are core to the DCPA Curriculum.

In order to help Digital CPA's hone in on their leadership skills, CPA.com and John Engels collaborated to create Owning Your Leadership.

This seven-part, self-study program provides firms with a deeper understanding of the leadership and relationship skills you'll need to be an effective leader from any position within a firm. It all starts with managing self.

As a member of PCPS, you are eligible to save $100 on this self-study program.
