Unmodified Opinions on Basic Financial Statements Accompanied by Required Supplementary Information and Other Information

\(Paragraphs 15.12–.16 and 15.66–.84\)

Independent Auditor's Report

[Appropriate Addressee]

Report on the Financial Statements

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of the governmental activities, the business-type activities, the aggregate discretely presented component units, each major fund, and the aggregate remaining fund information of the City of Example, Any State, as of and for the year ended June 30, 20X1, and the related notes to the financial statements, which collectively comprise the City's basic financial statements as listed in the table of contents.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America; this includes the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express opinions on these financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America.<sup>fn 2</sup>

<sup>fn 2</sup> When the audit is also performed under Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States, the following modifications would be made to this report.

Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinions.

Opinions

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the respective financial position of the governmental activities, the business-type activities, the aggregate discretely presented component units, each major fund, and the aggregate remaining fund information of the City of Example, Any State, as of June 30, 20X1, and the respective changes in financial position, and, where applicable, cash flows thereof for the year then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.<sup>fn 3</sup>

---

A. The second sentence of this section would be replaced with,

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States.

B. The final section of this illustrative report titled "Report on Other Legal and Regulatory Requirements" would be replaced with the following:

Other Reporting Required by *Government Auditing Standards

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we have also issued our report dated [date of report] on our consideration of the City of Example's internal control over financial reporting and on our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grant agreements and other matters. The purpose of that report is to describe the scope of our testing of internal control over financial reporting and compliance and the results of that testing, and not to provide an opinion on internal control over financial reporting or on compliance. That report is an integral part of an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards in considering City of Example's internal control over financial reporting and compliance.

See the AICPA Audit Guide Government Auditing Standards and Single Audits for illustrations of the reporting required by Government Auditing Standards and other information on planning, performing and reporting on the audit in accordance with Government Auditing Standards.

Other Matters <sup>fn 4</sup>

Required Supplementary Information <sup>fn 5</sup>

Accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America require that the [identify required supplementary information, such as management's discussion and analysis and budgetary comparison information] on pages XX–XX and XX–XX be presented to supplement the basic financial statements. Such information, although not a part of the basic financial statements, is required by the Governmental Accounting Standards Board who considers it to be an essential part of financial reporting for placing the basic financial statements in an appropriate operational, economic, or historical context. We have applied certain limited procedures to the required supplementary information in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, which consisted of inquiries of management about the methods of preparing the information and comparing the information for consistency with management's responses to our inquiries, the basic financial statements, and other knowledge we obtained during our audit of the basic financial statements. We do not express an opinion or provide any assurance on the information because the limited procedures do not provide us with sufficient evidence to express an opinion or provide any assurance.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the respective financial position of the governmental activities, the business-type activities, the aggregate discretely presented component units, each major fund, and the aggregate remaining fund information of the City of Example, Any State, as of June 30, 20X1, and the respective changes in financial position and, where applicable, cash flows thereof and the respective budgetary comparison for the [indicate the major governmental funds involved] for the year then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

<sup>fn 4</sup> The opening section of paragraph 15.103 of this chapter describes conditions that may make modifications to this report necessary, such as when the financial statements include information from a prior period or when the auditor is reporting on required supplementary information (RSI), supplementary information (SI), or other information (OI). See also footnotes 4, 5, and 6.

<sup>fn 5</sup> This RSI paragraph, within the "Other Matters" section of the report illustrates a situation where RSI is included, the auditor has applied the specified procedures, and no material departures from prescribed guidelines have been identified.

If all of the RSI is omitted, the paragraph on RSI would be replaced with the following:

Management has omitted [identify the missing RSI, such as management's discussion and analysis or budgetary comparison information] that accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America require to be presented to supplement the basic financial statements. Such missing information, although not a part of the basic financial statements, is required by the Governmental Accounting Standards Board who considers it to be an essential part of financial reporting for placing the basic financial statements in an appropriate operational, economic, or historical context. Our opinion on the basic financial statements is not affected by this missing information.

For other situations in which some RSI is omitted and some is presented in accordance with prescribed guidelines, there are material departures from prescribed guidelines, specified procedures were not completed, or there are unresolved doubts about whether the RSI is in accordance with prescribed guidelines, refer to the guidance in AU-C section 730, Required Supplementary Information (AICPA, Professional Standards).

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming opinions on the financial statements that collectively comprise the City of Example's basic financial statements. The [identify accompanying supplementary information, such as the combining and individual nonmajor fund financial statements, and the other information, such as the introductory and statistical sections] are presented for purposes of additional analysis and are not a required part of the basic financial statements.

The [identify accompanying supplementary information] is the responsibility of management and was derived from and relates directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the basic financial statements. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements and certain additional procedures, including comparing and reconciling such information directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the basic financial statements or to the basic financial statements themselves, and other additional procedures in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. In our opinion, the [identify accompanying supplementary information] is fairly stated, in all material respects, in relation to the basic financial statements as a whole.

The [identify the other information] has not been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements, and accordingly, we do not express an opinion or provide any assurance on it.

Report on Other Legal and Regulatory Requirements<sup>fn 8</sup>

<sup>fn 6</sup> This section, within the "Other Matters" section of the report, is intended to include the reporting on SI when the auditor is engaged to provide an "in relation to" opinion on SI and also when explanatory language will be provided relating to OI when the auditor is disclaiming an opinion on the OI. This illustration provides example language for both SI and OI reporting. The caption provided in this illustration is one way an auditor could title the section. Alternatively, the auditor could title it "Supplementary and Other Information," "Supplementary Information," or "Accompanying Information."

<sup>fn 7</sup> This illustration assumes that the auditor has been engaged to provide an "in-relation-to" opinion on SI, the auditor is issuing an unmodified opinion on the financial statements, and the auditor has concluded that the SI is fairly stated, in all material respects, in relation to the financial statements as a whole. If there is no SI on which to report, the references to SI in these paragraphs would be deleted. If the auditor has issued an opinion other than unmodified on the financial statements, see the guidance in AU-C section 725, Supplementary Information in Relation to the Financial Statements as a Whole (AICPA, Professional Standards). Additionally, the OI reporting contained within this section provides an example of explanatory language that the auditor may use to disclaim an opinion on OI. Note there is no required reporting on OI under AU-C section 720, Other Information in Documents Containing Audited Financial Statements (AICPA, Professional Standards). If there is no OI contained in the document containing the audited financial statements or if the auditor chooses not to include the disclaimer, the references to OI in this section would be deleted. See AU-C section 720 for more information.

<sup>fn 8</sup> In some circumstances, the auditor may have additional responsibilities to report on other matters that are supplementary to the auditor's responsibility under generally accepted auditing standards. When there are such other reporting responsibilities, they should be addressed in a separate section in the auditor's report. The form and content of the "Other Reporting Responsibilities" section of the auditor's report are described in paragraph .37 of AU-C section 700A, Forming an Opinion and Reporting on Financial Statements (AICPA, Professional Standards). Paragraph .37 of AU-C section 700A also provides that the section related to an auditor's other reporting responsibilities should be subtitled "Report on Other Legal and Regulatory Requirements" or otherwise, as appropriate to the content of the section. For example, if the audit is also performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards, an alternative title would be "Other Reporting Required by Government Auditing Standards." See footnote 1.

Example A-2

Unmodified Opinion on the Basic Financial Statements of a Special-Purpose Government That Has a Single Opinion Unit

(Paragraphs 15.17 and 15.58)

Independent Auditor's Report

[Appropriate Addressee]

Report on the Financial Statements

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of the Example Component Unit (ECU), a component unit of the City of Example, Any State,<sup>fn 9</sup> as of and for the year ended June 30, 20X1, and the related notes to the financial statements, which collectively comprise the ECU's basic financial statements as listed in the table of contents.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Same paragraph as in [example A-1]

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America.<sup>fn 10</sup> Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

---

<sup>fn 9</sup> As discussed in paragraph 15.58, the auditors' report should disclose that an entity is a component unit of a financial reporting entity. If the special-purpose government is not a component unit of another government, this reference to being a component unit should be removed.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the ECU as of June 30, 20X1, and the changes in its financial position and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.<sup>fn 11</sup>

<sup>fn 11</sup> In the opinion paragraph, the terms financial position and changes in financial position could be replaced with terms that would be more descriptive in the circumstances. For example, in a report on a public employee retirement system, the terms plan net position or fiduciary net position and changes in plan net position or changes in fiduciary net position might be used.

Report on Basic Financial Statements That Includes Qualified Opinions on Major Governmental Funds Because of a GAAP Departure<sup>fn 23</sup>

<sup>fn 23</sup> Depending on the nature and magnitude of the U.S. generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP) departure, it is possible that the auditor's opinion on the governmental activities also would be qualified, as illustrated in example A-10. Further, the same GAAP departure in the nonmajor governmental funds could affect the auditor's opinion on the aggregate remaining fund information. This example assumes that the auditor has concluded that the GAAP departure is not material to the governmental activities opinion unit or to the aggregate remaining fund information opinion unit. Another auditor could make a different professional judgment. (See paragraphs 15.07–.08.) If a GAAP departure is material to more than one opinion unit, the basis for modification paragraph should explain the nature and effect of the departure on each affected opinion unit.

Management has not adopted a methodology for reviewing the collectibility of taxes receivable in the [identify the affected major governmental funds, such as Major Governmental Funds X and Y] and, accordingly, has not considered the need to provide an allowance for uncollectible amounts. Accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America require that an adequate allowance be provided for uncollectible receivables, which would decrease the assets and fund balances and change the revenues in the [identify the affected major governmental funds]. The amount by which this departure would affect the assets, fund balances, and revenues of the [identify the affected major governmental funds] has not been determined.<sup>fn 26 fn 27</sup>

Qualified Opinions

In our opinion, except for the effects of the matter described in the "Basis for Qualified Opinions on Major Governmental Funds X and Y" paragraph, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the respective financial position of the [identify the affected major governmental funds] of the City of Example, Any State, as of June 30, 20X1, and the respective changes in financial position thereof for the year then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Unmodified Opinions

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the respective financial position of the governmental activities, the business-type activities, the aggregate discretely presented component units, [identify the major funds not affected by the qualification], and the aggregate remaining fund information of the City of Example, Any State, as of June 30, 20X1, and the respective changes in financial position and, where applicable, cash flows thereof for the year then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

<sup>fn 25</sup> As there are multiple opinion units provided in this report, the heading to this section illustrates identifying the opinion units to which the basis for opinion modifications apply to more clearly communicate the opinion units associated with the modification.

<sup>fn 26</sup> If a government presents required budgetary comparison information as basic financial statements instead of as RSI, the basis for modification paragraph also should explain the effect of the GAAP departure on the budgetary comparison information. This example assumes that the government budgets on a cash basis, and thus the GAAP departure would not affect the budgetary comparison information if it were presented as a basic financial statement. Example A-1 provides modification that would be needed to this report in other areas if required budgetary comparison information is presented as a basic financial statement.

<sup>fn 30</sup> As discussed in paragraph 15.34, an adverse opinion usually would be appropriate if a general-purpose government omits general infrastructure assets. Further, depending on the nature and magnitude of the facts and circumstances leading to an adverse opinion on one or more opinion units, it is possible that the auditor would conclude that it is appropriate to issue an adverse opinion on the financial statements as a whole. (See paragraphs 15.10 and 15.35.) This example assumes that the auditor has concluded that the GAAP departure warrants an adverse opinion on the governmental activities, but not on the financial statements as a whole. Another auditor could make a different professional judgment and issue an adverse opinion on the financial statements as a whole, and thus use the type of report illustrated in example A-8.

Our responsibility is to express opinions on these financial statements based on our audit. We did not audit the financial statements of [identify organization, function, or activity], which represent XX percent, XX percent, and XX percent, respectively, of the assets, [net position, or fund balances], and revenues of the [identify opinion unit(s)].<sup>fn 44</sup> Those statements were audited by other auditors whose report has been furnished to us, and our opinion, insofar as it relates to the amounts included for [identify organization, function, or activity], is based solely on the report of the other auditors. We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America.<sup>fn 45</sup> Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinions.

Opinions

In our opinion, based on our audit and the report of other auditors, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the respective financial position of the governmental activities, the business-type activities, the aggregate discretely presented component units, each major fund, and the aggregate remaining fund information of the City of Example, Any State, as of June 30, 20X1, and the respective changes in financial position and, where applicable, cash flows thereof for the year then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

<sup>fn 44</sup> Appropriate changes to this sentence should be made when an entire opinion unit is audited by another auditor. For example, "We did not audit the financial statements of the Sewer Enterprise Fund, which is both a major fund and XX percent, XX percent, and XX percent, respectively, of the assets, net position, and revenues of the business-type activities." However, the report still should indicate in the "Auditor's Responsibility" section the group auditor's responsibility for auditing that opinion unit. The group auditor should also express or disclaim an opinion in the "Opinion" section of the report. See the further discussion in paragraph 15.85 and the guidance in AU-C section 600, Special Considerations—Audits of Group Financial Statements (Including the Work of Component Auditors) (AICPA, Professional Standards).

Required Supplementary Information

Accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America require that the [identify required supplementary information, such as management's discussion and analysis and budgetary comparison information] on pages XX–XX and XX–XX be presented to supplement the basic financial statements. Such information, although not a part of the basic financial statements, is required by the Governmental Accounting Standards Board who considers it to be an essential part of financial reporting for placing the basic financial statements in an appropriate operational, economic, or historical context. We and other auditors <sup>fn 47</sup> have applied certain limited procedures to the required supplementary information in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, which consisted of inquiries of management about the methods of preparing the information and comparing the information for consistency with management's responses to our inquiries, the basic financial statements, and other knowledge we obtained during our audit of the basic financial statements. We do not express an opinion or provide any assurance on the information because the limited procedures do not provide us with sufficient evidence to express an opinion or provide any assurance.

Other Information

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming opinions on the financial statements that collectively comprise the City of Example's basic financial statements. The [identify accompanying supplementary information, such as the combining and individual nonmajor fund financial statements, and the other information such as the introductory and statistical sections] are presented for purposes of additional analysis and are not a required part of the basic financial statements.

The [identify accompanying supplementary information] is the responsibility of management and was derived from and relates directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the basic financial statements. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements and certain additional procedures, including comparing and reconciling such information directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the basic financial statements or to the basic financial statements themselves, and other additional procedures in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America by us and other auditors. In our opinion, based on our audit, the procedures performed as described above, and the report of the other auditors, the [identify accompanying supplementary information] is fairly stated, in all material respects, in relation to the basic financial statements as a whole.

The [identify the other information] has not been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements, and accordingly, we do not express an opinion or provide any assurance on it.

<sup>fn 47</sup> References to other auditors are only appropriate when the other auditor's report discusses applicable RSI, SI, or both. (see paragraph 15.86).

Report on Basic Financial Statements That Includes Multiple Opinion Modifications, Including an Adverse Opinion Because A Major Fund Is Omitted<sup>fn 49 fn 50</sup>

(Paragraph 15.53)

Independent Auditor's Report

[Appropriate Addressee]

Report on the Financial Statements

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of the governmental activities, the business-type activities, the aggregate discretely presented component units, each major fund (except as described below), and the aggregate remaining fund information of the City of Example, Any State, as of and for the year ended June 30, 20X1, and the related notes to the financial statements, which collectively comprise the City's basic financial statements as listed in the table of contents.

<sup>fn 49</sup> As discussed in paragraph 15.53, the auditor should issue an adverse opinion on a major fund opinion unit when a major governmental or enterprise fund is omitted from the financial statements. (That paragraph also discusses how the auditor should modify the opinion on the remaining fund information opinion unit if the major fund is included in the financial statements but not as a major fund.) However, depending on the nature and magnitude of the other GAAP departures illustrated in this report, it is possible that the auditor might issue an adverse opinion on one or more of the opinion units affected by the omitted or misclassified major fund, or on the financial statements as a whole. This example assumes that the auditor has concluded that qualified opinions on the opinion units affected by the omitted or misclassified major fund are appropriate. Another auditor could make a different professional judgment. (See similar situations handled differently in examples A-5 and A-7.)

<sup>fn 50</sup> This example illustrates providing the various basis for modifications in a separate paragraph followed immediately by a paragraph with the related opinion(s). There is nothing to preclude an auditor from first discussing all modifications in separate paragraphs and then following those paragraphs with the various opinion paragraphs. However, in light of the multiple opinions being provided in this example, the approach provided here may be easier for a user to understand.

Management has not included Enterprise Fund A<sup>fn 53</sup> in the City’s financial statements. Accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America require Enterprise Fund A to be presented as a major enterprise fund and financial information about Enterprise Fund A to be part of the business-type activities, thus increasing that activity’s assets, deferred outflows of resources, liabilities, deferred inflows of resources, revenues, and expenses, and changing its net position. The amount by which this departure would affect the assets, deferred outflows of resources, liabilities, deferred inflows of re-

If, instead, the omitted major fund is a blended component unit and the only component unit, the auditor could instead issue a report on the primary government, as discussed in paragraphs 15.54–.57 and illustrated in examples A-11 and A-12.

sources, net position, revenues, and expenses of the business-type activities and the omitted major fund has not been determined.<sup>fn 54</sup>

Adverse Opinion

In our opinion, because of the significance of the matter discussed in the "Basis for Adverse Opinion on Enterprise Fund A and Qualified Opinion on Business-Type Activities" paragraph, the financial statements referred to above do not present fairly the financial position of Enterprise Fund A of the City of Example, Any State, as of June 30, 20X1, or the changes in financial position or cash flows thereof for the year then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Qualified Opinion

In our opinion, except for the matter described in the "Basis for Adverse Opinion on Enterprise Fund A and Qualified Opinion on Business-Type Activities" paragraph, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the business-type activities of the City of Example, Any State, as of June 30, 20X1, and the changes in financial position thereof for the year then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Basis for Qualified Opinions on Governmental Activities and Governmental Funds X and Y<sup>fn 55</sup>

As discussed in Note X to the financial statements, management has not recorded a liability for compensated absences in governmental activities and, accordingly, has not recorded an expense for the current period change in that liability. Accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America require that compensated absences attributable to employee services already rendered and that are not contingent on a specific event that is outside the control of the employer and employee be accrued as liabilities and expenses as employees earn the rights to the benefits, which would increase the liabilities, reduce the net position, and change the expenses of the governmental activities. The amount by which this departure would affect the liabilities, net position, and expenses of the governmental activities has not been determined.<sup>fn 56</sup>

In addition, management has not adopted a methodology for reviewing the collectibility of taxes receivable in the [identify the affected major governmental funds, such as Major Governmental Funds X and Y] and in governmental activities and, accordingly, has not considered the need to provide an allowance for uncollectible amounts. Accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America require that an adequate allowance be provided for uncollectible receivables, which would decrease the assets, fund balances, and net position, and change the revenues in the [identify the affected funds] and in governmental activities. The amount by which this departure would affect the assets, fund balances, net position, and revenues of the [identify the affected funds] and governmental activities has not been determined.<sup>fn 57</sup>

Qualified Opinions

In our opinion, except for the matters described in the "Basis for Qualified Opinions on Governmental Activities and Governmental Funds X and Y" paragraphs above, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the respective financial position of the governmental activities and the [identify the affected major governmental funds] of the City of Example, Any State, as of June 30, 20X1, and the respective changes in financial position thereof for the year then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Unmodified Opinions

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the respective financial position of the aggregate discretely presented component units, [identify the major funds not affected by the previously described adverse and qualified opinions], and the aggregate remaining fund information of the City of Example, Any State, as of June 30, 20X1, and the respective changes in financial position and, where applicable, cash flows thereof for the year then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Opinions

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the respective financial position of the governmental activities, the business-type activities, each major fund, and the aggregate remaining fund information of the primary government of the City of Example, Any State, as of June 30, 20X1, and the respective changes in financial position and, where applicable, cash flows thereof for the year then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

<sup>fn 60</sup> This report should only be used when the entity also has issued audited financial statements for the reporting entity. The report in example A-13 should be used if the entity has not also issued audited financial statements for the reporting entity.

<sup>fn 61</sup> Paragraph 15.44 discusses reporting on financial statements that omit the financial information of one (or more) but not all component units.

As discussed in Note X, the financial statements referred to above include only the primary government of the City of Example, Any State, which consists of all funds, organizations, institutions, agencies, departments, and offices that comprise the City’s legal entity. These primary government financial statements do not include financial data for the City’s legally separate component units, which accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America require to be reported with the financial data of the City’s primary government. As a result, the primary government financial statements do not purport to, and do not, present fairly the financial position of the reporting entity of the City of Example, Any State, as of June 30, 20X1, the changes in its financial position, or, where applicable, its cash flows thereof for the year then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. Our opinion is not modified with respect to this matter.

We have audited, in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, the financial statements of the reporting entity of the City of Example, Any State, as of and for the year ended June 30, 20X1, and our report thereon, dated [date of report], expressed an unmodified opinion on those financial statements.

<sup>fn 62</sup> When the auditor includes an emphasis-of-matter paragraph in the auditor’s report, the auditor should use the heading “Emphasis of Matter” or other appropriate heading.

<sup>fn 63</sup> If the government also has issued audited financial statements for the reporting entity, the auditor’s report on separate primary government basic financial statements should contain the required elements listed in paragraph 15.55. Without those elements, such separate basic financial statements for the primary government could be misinterpreted to be the complete basic financial statements of the financial reporting entity. An emphasis-of-matter paragraph should be used to communicate these elements.
